Debunking Money Myths

Myth: Study Abroad is too expensive

Fact: You can study abroad on a budget. Location, program type and program length all factor in to the price. Financial aid can be applied to your program and there are many scholarships available on our website, studyabroad.unt.edu

Myth: Study Abroad will delay my degree completion, costing more money

Fact: Students often earn the same credits abroad that they earn at UNT, sometimes even getting ahead in their degree. Talk to your academic advisor to discuss how credits may transfer and be applied to your degree program.

Myth: Financial Aid won’t transfer to my study abroad program

Fact: All programs listed on our website have been approved by UNT. This means most financial aid will apply to study abroad. Email the Financial Aid Office at specialprograms@unt.edu to confirm your eligibility and awards for study abroad.

Consider daily costs, including luggage fees, communication (cell phones and data plans), local transportation, souvenirs, spending money and other personal expenses. Costs depend on location and lifestyle.
Financial Aid

It is possible to apply financial aid towards the cost of all programs offered by the UNT Study Abroad Office. Even if you believe you are not eligible for financial aid or have not received it in the past, consider applying for the time when you’ll be abroad.

WHEN TO APPLY
Complete your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) early. Applications for the following academic year are available October 1.

Due to the funding limitations of some programs, it is recommended you complete your FAFSA by March 15. This also allows Student Financial Aid and Scholarships to complete your award processing early.

HOW TO APPLY
• Apply for a Federal Student Aid ID (FSAID) at fsaid.ed.gov. This is used to sign your FAFSA. A parent must also apply for an FSAID if you are considered a dependent student.
• Complete your FAFSA online at fafsa.ed.gov. UNT’s school code is 003594.

ASSESS YOUR ELIGIBILITY
The UNT Student Financial Aid and Scholarships office generally allocates the maximum award possible to students based on need and cost of attendance. However, there is still an opportunity to increase your eligibility. Your study abroad advisor will complete a contractual agreement that itemizes each estimated cost for your program.

Note: This does not guarantee that the amount of scholarships, grants, and/or most loans can be increased.

USING FINANCIAL AID FOR STUDY ABROAD

Faculty Led and Exchange Programs
Students participating in faculty led or exchange programs pay their normal UNT tuition. Any financial aid received will apply to your student account as normal to pay charges on your account. Please refer to Student Accounting for any questions regarding refund preferences and processing.

Affiliate Programs
Affiliate program participants will be responsible for paying program providers directly. Any aid disbursed will be refunded to you based on your refund preferences unless you have a remaining balance from a previous semester.

Special Notes
Some forms of financial aid cannot be applied to the final program fee balance. Check with your donor or department to determine if you are eligible to use your award for study abroad.

You must notify SAO and Financial Aid if you withdraw from your program. Repayment of any federal aid already disbursed will be required.
Financial Aid

SUMMER FINANCIAL AID
Visit financialaid.unt.edu for current information.

General Eligibility
- Enroll in UNT summer courses (minimum of 6 credits for undergraduates; 5 credits for graduates)
- Valid FAFSA for the current school year. Summer is part of the previous fall and spring academic year
- Complete the Summer Financial Aid Application on my.unt.edu

Eligible students will receive summer financial aid notifications via email with further instructions.

Aid will be disbursed by the first day of classes at UNT or the first day of your program, whichever is latest.

Summer funding is limited to your financial aid package from the preceding academic year. If you are able to save some financial aid from fall and spring semesters, you may be able to apply the remaining funds to your summer study abroad program.

Email specialprograms@unt.edu if you plan to use financial aid for study abroad.

Grants & Scholarships

The UNT Study Abroad Office offers travel grants and International Education Fee Scholarships to UNT students participating in approved study abroad programs. All awards are contingent upon the recipient’s acceptance and successful completion of a study abroad program.

STUDY ABROAD TRAVEL GRANTS
Grants are awarded based on financial need and merit. You may receive the travel grant once as an undergraduate and once as a graduate student. Submit an application online prior to the program deadline.

UNT SCHOLARSHIPS
Scholarships are usually restricted to students majoring in a specific academic discipline. Contact departments for application information and deadlines.

Inform Financial Aid of your status as a study abroad student at specialprograms@unt.edu to determine what scholarships may be applicable during your time abroad.

Emerald Eagle Scholars
- Contact your EESP coordinator to see what study abroad funding opportunities are available.

Terry Scholars
- Contact Dr. Duban in the Office for Nationally Competitive Scholarships to see how you could receive up to $15,000 to study abroad.
Grants & Scholarships

AFFILIATE PROVIDERS
Many affiliates provide scholarships to students participating in their programs. Contact your study abroad advisor for more information about specific scholarship opportunities.

BENJAMIN A. GILMAN INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM
The Gilman Scholarship program is awarded to undergraduate Pell Grant recipients. Students are eligible to receive up to $5,000 for credit-bearing programs, including research and internships.

BOREN AWARDS, STEM INITIATIVE
Boren Scholarships provide funding opportunities to undergraduate students to study uncommon languages critical to U.S. interests and underrepresented in study abroad. This scholarship offers a special initiative for STEM majors. Some students focus on language study and incorporate a STEM-related internship to their overseas plan. Internships should be academic in nature, unpaid, with a non-governmental organization.

CRITICAL LANGUAGE SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM
The CLS Program is open to undergraduate and graduate students from any major who are U.S. citizens. The Program is funded by the U.S. Department of State and provides full funding for students to participate in a 7-10 week critical language summer program. Eligibility requirements vary depending on language of study.

DIVERSITY ABROAD SCHOLARSHIPS
Diversity Abroad connects and assists students in reaching their academic and career potential in our increasingly interconnected world. Search for global programs, scholarships, graduate and career opportunities.

FUND FOR EDUCATION ABROAD
Fund for Education Abroad offers scholarships to U.S. citizens or permanent residents currently enrolled as undergraduates who plan to study abroad for at least four weeks. Students can be awarded up to $10,000.

GERMAN ACADEMIC EXCHANGE SERVICE (DAAD)
DAAD offers scholarships to undergraduate students to study abroad in Germany regardless of major. These scholarships are offered for up to ten months during the German academic year. It is a flexible scholarship program which offers a variety of program length options.

PHI KAPPA PHI HONOR SOCIETY GRANTS
PKP Grants help support undergraduates as they seek knowledge and experience in their academic fields. Forty-Five $1,000 grants are awarded annually. Society Membership not required.

ROTARY FOUNDATION GRANTS
Rotary Grants support a wide variety of projects, scholarships, and training around the world. Depending on the type of grant, students may need to apply up to a year and half before going abroad. Award amounts vary depending on the type of grant.

Never pay for a scholarship search!
Additional scholarship opportunities can be found at studyabroad.unt.edu
The key to success is to start planning at least a year in advance. This gives you time to estimate total costs and develop a funding plan. If costs are a concern, shop around to find programs that best fit your budget. With more than 800 programs in 90 countries, there is a program for every budget!

FUNDING WORKSHOPS
Develop your funding plan and learn how to determine costs at a Study Abroad Funding Workshop.

The Study Abroad Office, Student Financial Aid & Scholarships Office, and the Student Money Management Center conduct workshops on the first Wednesday of every month.

FINANCIAL COACHING SESSIONS
Student Money Management Center coaches are available to help you financially prepare for your study abroad experience. They help create budgets, explore various funding options, and create financial plans. Visit moneymanagement.unt.edu to set up a personal coaching session.

ADDITIONAL IDEAS
